REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Madison, Wis., June 22.—The next hear-ing of the Wisconsin Republican row will be in the courts. The Spooner Repullicans, as soon as the National Convention is over, will begin their preparations for a fight which will be carried to the State Supreme Court. What the result there will be can hardly be determined. The aly doubt the Spooner men express over the result is over the fact that the cour entirely unprejudiced, as Justice Siebecker is a brother-in-law of the Govrhor, and his former campaign manager, But the Spooner men believe that their case is so strong that even Justice Siebecker, when acquainted with the evi-dence, will not refuse to concur in the decision of the rest of the court in orderin the Republican column.

It is not certain just what course will be pursued by the Spooner men, but it is probable that before the first of July mandamus proceedings will be begun, or-dering Secretary of State Houser to place the Cook-Spooner ticket in the Republican column, thereby forcing the Governor to be enrolled as an independent candidate. The decision in the lower court will be appealed and the case brought before the State Supreme Court in August for final

Mr. Saunders did not want to commit himself, and the telegraphic reply said that Mr. Walbridge would leave the matter with the delegation.

FIGHT ON STONE HITT'S NAME WILL

Strong Hand at Joplin's Convention.

PHELPS MAY NOT OPPOSE, ILLINOIS BREACH

Indiscriminate Use of Proxies Will Probably Re Stopped by Rule Against Them at Coming Convention.

A fight on Senator Stone for Celegate at arge to the Democratic National Convenion will develop at the Joplin State Convention next week, though its probable proportions remain as yet undetermined The basis of it, in the talk of Democratic politicians, does not lie precisely within the bounds of the Folk and anti-Folk diision. The Senator has enemies in both amps, and friends, though a majority of the former are of the Folk ranks.

The disposition to withhold this honor from Missourl's junior Senator is explained differently in different quarters. Some of is opponents quarrel with his record to legislative serice at Jefferson City, talknk up the old "alum" scandals. Others have personal grievances, and still others declare that, despite his statements in behalf of Cockrell, he is too closely identified with the Eastern Democracy, represented in such men as Gorman, who seem rendy to desert much of that for which the Western Democracy has conwhich the Western Democracy has contended in a nations, way.

Stene disclaims anything like an outand out candidacy for membership in the "Big Four," But he health is improving, and it is reasonable to assume that he wants to retain his present prominence in his party, locally and nationally, and his membership, in the National Committee depends upon his receiving for the Missouri delegation, and upon the complexion of that delegation. He was actively present during the St. asseph convention, mingling with the delegates.
Aside from the general desire to keep in touch with the political drift of affairs in Missouri, it is known that he was "sizing nj" the situation in preparation for Joplin.

STONE'S PECULIAR OPPOSITION. The peculiarity of the opposition to him

The peculiarity of the opposition to him is illustrated by the Jackson County Joplin delegation. It is about equally divided by compromise between Reed and Folk men, and yet both friends and opponents of Stone are on either side. Stone has more strength in St. Louis than he once had, but those at present in control of many of the important counties may be safely counted against him.

The Joplin convention, almost straight through, will be a free body, and the matter of the full membership of the Hig Four will be thrashed out when it convenes June 28. Only some thirty counties are instructed for delegates at large, and with these the instructions are so scattering that they afford but a small index. There is a growing feeling among the Folk men that they should be represented. Vandiver is spoken of as their man, and he has instructions from five counties.

Strongest in the number of assured delegates thus far are Governor, Dockery, Senator Stone, Champ Clark and DeArmond. Of these, the selection of Dockery and Clark is a certainty.

At least one busy politician is authority for the statement that "Colonel Bill" Pheins will not give battle to his old en-Phelps will not give battle to his old en-smy, Stone, at Joplin. This doesn't sound anything like the way the Phelps men from Jasper talked at St. Joe. They said that, though they allowed their contest of the Barbee men to pass by at the judicial convention, because they believed that the majority in the convention was against them, they would fight to a finish at Jop-lin and Jefferson City. The probabilities are that in that case they would seat the six of their men from the East end of the Joplin district, and that these would be anti-Stone.

ARE AGAINST FUSION Joilin district, and that these would be anti-Stone.

Another interesting point which may come up at Joilin, and it is a rule which almost to a certainty will be applied at Jefferson City, involves the seating of proxies for delegates. As one politician said it: "This as a game too often worked to go back on instructions." It went hard with Congressman Dougherty in his fight sgainst Sullinger in his Congressional Convention last week. Two men having proxies from delegates instructed for Dougherty voted against and beat him. So the delegates will be required to appear themselves.

So the delegates will be required to appear themselves.

Somebody started a story giving color to it by an alleged interview with Vandiver that the Folk people would encourage the holting of instructions under certain co-ditions. This is denied at the Folk head-quarters, it being declared that nothing of the sort is contemplated, much less urged. passage of a resolution by a vote of 270

Munger was here to-day with J. M. Bow-ers of the Wayne County Journal. Sam Byrnes of De Soto was here in the interest of Bayne. The appointment wil probably be made during the present week.

McKinley Boom Is Sound. A. J. Martin of Unionville, manager of Senator McKinley's Republican gubernatotial boom, came to town yesterday more or less excited over the intimation that McKinley's candidacy was a side issue in somebody else's interests. "The idea in-corporated in a press telegram from Chi-cago," he said, "stating that the McKin-ley candidacy was for the purpose of delivering the First District to some cer-tain faction does the Senator a great in-justice. He is essentially not a faction-ist, and has not by inference or other-wise agreed to deliver anything to any faction. He is a candidate because his triends urged him to make the race—they believe in bis fine ability and implicit honesty. He has done thus far no cam-palgning in the First District." somebody else's interests, "The idea inif Cleveland is nominated his chances would be better than Rooseveit's.

"The Populist party has no hope in either Cleveland or Rooseveit. It must stand alone. Let the Democratic party fight its own hattles and the Populists do the same.

Lines Are Sharply Drawn Be tween Yates and Cullom for Senatorship, and Opposing Forces Begin to Line Up.

PERUBLIC SPECIAL. Chicago, June 22 - As forecasted in today's Republic, the lilinols delegation this morning formally withdrew the name of Congressman Robert R. Hilt as a candi-date for Vice President. There has been io sentiment whatever for Hitt from the start, except in a few States, where he has influential sucial friends in the Senate and House.

The Hitt candidacy was promulgated at the Republican State Convention at Springfield by a Chicago newspaper, which was so urgent in its demands for an in-dersement of the Congressman that it went through more as a matter of form than anything else, and as a sop to the influence of the newspaper. As soon as the national delegates began to gather in Chideclaring that Mr. Hitt was very III, and only Mr. Hitt was ill, but that he was

There was no truth in these stories They were denied in a telegram from Mr. Hitt to Senzton Cullem last night, in which the Congressman requested Cullom to use his own discretion as to the question of placing him in nomination.

Upon receipt of this message Senator Cullom consulted as many Illinois delegates as he could last night and then called a caucus of the entire delegation for 19 o'clock this morning. The delegation was unanimous in indorsing the sentiment that Mr. Hitt's name ought to be withdrawn, and that Fairbanks had too strong a pull to be defeated.

General Smith, a lifelong friend of Congressman Hitt and the Postmaster at Freeport, was recognized by Senator Cullom, who said that although General Atkins was not a delegate, nevertheless he had a statement of interest to make to the delegation. General Atkins formally withdrew Mr. Hitt's name as a candidate, with the statement that he was authorized to do so by Mr. Hitt, WILL READ TELEGRAM

The "State gang" is brought face to face with the proposition that Senator Cullom cannot be defeated for re-election two years hence by the scratch of a pen or the wave of a hand. They know they will have a tremendous fight, notwithstanding the enormous patronage at the disposal of the Governor and the Legislature, for it is regarded as certain that the will control the organization of both Senate and House in the next Legislature.

CAUCUS BROUGHT SHOCK. Until a roll call was had in the Hilnoi caucus Monday afternoon most of the nie eaters, present and prospective, believed the "State gang" to be invincible in every thing pertaining to office holding. The result of the caucus was a rude shock to many a faint heart, and there is now a radical change in sentiment. Even some of the Yates-Deneen people who are holding jobs now express doubts as to the ability of Yates or any other candidate of the State syndicate to defeat Cullom.

The conditions, with one importan exception, four years ago were about the same as they are now. Then Cullom and Tanner had quarreled, and Tanner was empelled to withdraw from the race for Governor in the face of certain defeat. His candidate was not nominated, but Tanner was powerful enough to nominate Yates. Having done this, Tanner had right to expect assistance from Yates in his fight against Cullom, and he received Yet Cullom was nominated in the ner, Cannon and Hitt withdrawing their Deneen is a man of character and no one doubts but he will return the favor Yates handed hlm in Springfield, no difference what may be said to the centrary. So far the conditions are parallel. The exception mentioned is in favor of the Yates-Deneco combination, which counts on electing a Mayor of Chicago, in the person of John
